ATHLETES MEET DES PL. SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Wing High School Teams "Escape" Jail But Pay Fines

Watch out, motorists, or the new Des Plaines safety campaign will get you. It may be near the midnight hour, you may be driving on the outskirts of town, and you may think that you have obeyed all of the sections of the vehicle code of Illinois and the city of Des Plaines, but keep your fingers crossed or the Des Plaines police will get you.

Remember that the corporate limits of the village of Des Plaines extends to Mt. Prospect and just because you are passing by the Benjamin Electric Co., do not think that you are on your own. Look in back of you and if you see a car following you with its lights turned off, dig down in your pocket for a $10 cash bond plus a one dollar additional fee. If you have not the money, try to remember the phone number of the closest friend who will loan it to you.

Don't you dare ask for a receipt for that extra dollar fee. You will not get it—because there is a safety campaign on in Des Plaines. It seems that the campaign works nights, everybody obeys the laws during the day time.

The above has been the experience, so say the reports, of more than one motorist who resides west of Des Plaines—the City of Safety.

It made no difference last Friday night to the Des Plaines police that the coaches of the Arlington Heights high school were willing to give their personal guarantee to return and face all charges, if they were allowed to take their basketball players home. Coaches of the "City of Good Neighbors" did not necessarily bring neighborly treatment to officials of Arlington.

Judge Schuebert evidently agreed with the police as far as the levied fines of $5 and cost, $10 in all, plus that one dollar extra fee that has apparently disappeared in the shuffle.

The Des Plaines official family of the police court are loyal—to each other and little credence was given at the hearing before Judge Schuebert, who accepted the word of the officers and declared $5.00 and costs. That is the reason that copies of the following letter have been mailed to States Attorney, state high school athletic Assn; local press; officials of Des Plaines and the Chicago Motor club.

Oh, Yes! Attorney Nichols represented the prisoners and served notice of an appeal. Des Plaines may be a nice store to which some Arlington people occasionally trade but the rebuff that its police department has given to Arlington Heights high school is being reflected, according to reports, in cutting off business connections with a number of Des Plaines firms who have had some good customers in Arlington. Such treatment to Arlington Heights school is considered an affront to the entire community.

Purnell-Wilson Give Away Over 7,000 Gallons Gas

Not many moons ago True Wilson of the local Ford agency was stricken by a great wave of philanthropy—he wanted to give away something. He pondered and scratched his thatch along with his sales major, George Poole, until the two heads yielded one thought—"Give away gasoline—100 gallons to any one that buys a used car from us." What could be more syrupy, philanthropy combined with sound business?

So, an advertising man was called in, the story told him and he left to burn midnight electricity until a campaign appeared in the local newspaper.

Into every cottage, residence and mansion went the message that Purnell-Wilson were giving away 100 gallons of gasoline. Each and every filling station was enlisted in this mighty drive for gasoline's sake and used car emancipation. The newspapers blazoned this message of Philanthropists Wilson and True until it burned itself into the very pores of the gentry.

Came the dawn, clean, clear and rosy. Tomorrow on February 29th, ends the great give-away movement. The gasoline tanks will no longer resound to the steady pump of 100 gallon gasoline orders. The offer is off tomorrow at midnight. But, let us see just what happened during this campaign.

Statistics proved that the elbows of an army of gasoline station attendants injected over 7,000 gallons of gasoline in the petrol tanks of more than seventy automobiles, formerly stalled in Purnell-Wilson. A very satisfactory report due to a very satisfactory advertising campaign.

Moral: When you've got a good idea get a good advertising man to run it in a good advertising medium (Cook County Herald) and go take a good pat for yourself on the back.

By Order of Committee.

Arlington Police Issues Warning to Motorists To Watch Des Plaines

While it might be unusual for the head of a police department to warn the people of his home town regarding the police activities of a neighboring municipality, yet the police of Des Plaines have become so active against motorists, that George F. Schneberger, who is also chairman of the police committee of Arlington Heights feels that as a protection to local motorists they should be warned regarding the conditions in Des Plaines. Heavy fines are being inflicted there.

A WARNING

A warning is issued to motorists of Arlington Heights and vicinity to observe all motor laws to the Nth degree while passing through the city of Des Plaines.

A number of motorists have been arrested for failing to stop twice at their stop signs. If you are stopped, directly behind a car stopping at a stop sign, do not cross with the car ahead of you. Instead, pull up ten feet, stop again and then go through. There is a technical violation if you start with the car ahead of you and it will cost you $1.00 for signing your own recognition, plus court costs, and a fine and minimum fines are exceptional.

Travel under 25 miles per hour west from Lee street to Cumberland, and from River Road to the Park Ridge limits, if you are on the Northwest highway. The police of Des Plaines are arresting for all improper parking, leaving your motor running and other minor violations. Motorists should watch for every violation while in Des Plaines. Better to go to movies and shop at home and avoid trouble.

Geo. F. Schneberger.

SCHOOL OFFICIAL COMPLAINS OF TREATMENT

February 21, 1936
To the States Attorney
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Sir:

I beg to report the following case which was tried in the court of Judge Schuebert, February 21st, 1936, in Des Plaines, in Cook County, Illinois.

Two basketball teams from this school were returning from a game at Northbrook and passed through Des Plaines, the boys riding in cars, the first of which was supervised by the assistant coach and the last car was driven by the head coach of the school. Entering Des Plaines on Dempster Street, the two cars in front came to a stop at River Road, proceeded through town making a stop at Lee Street, proceeded on about one block when they had to stop because of a car backing out into the right of way from diagonal parking, after which they proceeded on and passed under a viaduct which being on a double curve necessitated their slowing down. After proceeding, in total, about a mile and one-half from River Road they were stopped by the Des Plaines police who claimed a traffic violation for not stopping at River Road, and a speed charge of 44 miles per hour.

All of the boys were required to remain at the station from the time of arrest, 10:50 p.m., until about 11:40, and were only allowed to leave after the drivers had signed their own bonds and the assistant coach had paid one dollar for each car, for which money he was refused a receipt and told he could not get any of it back anyway. I wish to direct your attention to the obvious intent of the officers who did not stop the cars until they traveled a mile and a half during which time they made 2 complete stops, and also slowed down for the viaduct; the police officers starting from the intersection (at which the alleged violation occurred) at the same time according to their testimony.

Being held responsible for the supervision of boys while on trips of this nature, I am, of course, interested in their safety, and in the observance of traffic laws, and on the rare occasions when our teams travel in cars, one teacher is in the first car and another in the last one. I have complete confidence in the integrity of both of the teachers concerned, although Judge Schuebert ruled that their testimony was not sufficient to disprove the word of the officers, who after verbally stating one violation, made out the charge for another violation, and then gave the boys the ticket bearing to some stranger among the several who also were charged while the boys were still in the station.

My request is, that your office investigate the number of arrests made, the manner in which made, and the practice of demanding money for which they refuse to give receipts, by the police department of Des Plaines, and in the subsequent trial of such cases in the courts of Des Plaines.

A. M. Conger, Principal

expects over 4,000 young persons to be in the parade. Our own Past Commander, Vic Pecchia, is in charge of the activity in area one—comprising Barrington, Palatine, Mount Prospect, Des Plaines and Merle Guild Posts. Comrade Harvey Daggett, our post Americanization chairman is in charge of the activity for this post and is working very hard to see to it that we have an adequate representation in the parade. Give him your support.

Due to the inclement weather Drum and Bugle practice has been temporarily called off, but now with the great thaw coming on, we will again get together for practice. One of the things to be discussed at our next practice is should we change our practice night. Try to be out to our next practice.

Squadron News

At a recent meeting of the squadron our commander Les Griffith suggested a new idea—you have all heard of Major Bowes hour and he thought it would be a good idea to find out how much talent we had in our organization and the results were more than pleasing we had talented youngsters in our post and how.

Young Bob Schwolow is quite a contortionist; Carl Schwolow is good enough to go along with Borrah Minnevitch's Harmonica Rascals; Frank Schwolow knows how to tell a joke; Cliff and Leland Storms must practice monologue acts at home as they were great; apparently Orville Kurtz has been listening to the laughing record as he imitated the laughs to a "I" and young Wesley Kurtz will be an actor some day; Lawrence Engeling, Billy and Tommy Griffith sang and it won't be long before one of them bursts out as a George Gobel, Charlie Miller impersonated in a great style; "Popeye" the sailor man and Poley McClintock of Fred Warings orchestra and last but not least, Chuckie Page and Allan Miller demonstrated that they are future Jack Dempseys or Jim Jeffries.

We are proud of the boys—splendid little gentlemen that they are. Max Kramer has been ill lately, but hopes to be back with us again soon and continue his talks on Army Scouting and Charlie Page promises faithfully to be out next meeting to again coach the boys in boxing.

Charles Daggett will bring his friend Allan Rheinhagen out to the next meeting and he will entertain us with tricks on magic.

Les Griffith will be out too and continue his Amateur Hour, so this will be a very interesting meeting—don't miss it. The date is Friday, March 6, the place—Legion Home. Time, 7:45 p.m.

Area News

Our Area chairman Comrade Pecchia, immediate Past Commander of Merle Guild Post has issued a call for all Post Commanders, membership chairmen and parade chairmen in Area No. 1 to convene at his home this coming Friday, February 28th with the idea in mind to formulate plans for our youth parade which will be held Sunday, May 24.

District Commander, Joe Bernhard, district senior vice commander and membership chairman, George Rohde; district junior vice commander and youth parade chairman, Joe O'Brien, will be the principal speakers.

This will be the first of a series of get together meetings of posts in our area—this, as Vic states it, is to help decrease the distance of posts socially and to increase the spirit of comradeship by sponsoring tournaments in soft ball, bowling, horseshoe, ping pong, chess, checkers, etc. It is a worthy idea and Comrade Pecchia is to be commended in his initiative in bringing it about.

Story of the Recreation Park Project

AS TOLD BY THE FILES OF THE HERALD

SEPT. 6, 1935

PARK SUGGESTED

If anything is to be done for a swimming pool, somebody must work fast. The government offers to furnish engineers, plans, build and equip a swimming pool with field house at no expense to the village or park district. The only obligation would be the subsequent upkeep of the establishment.

In discussing the swimming pool at the board meeting, the claim was made that more Arlington Heights people used the Barrington pool the past summer than Barrington people.

SEPT. 13—

Park Board May Sponsor Both Projects; Quick Action by Trustees and Mayor Makes Possible Use of WPA Funds

Double barreled action on the above was taken last Friday, when Trustees Krause and Schneberger accompanied Mayor Flentie to headquarters office and learned that the two projects were possible, but improbable of accomplishment on account of the few hours remaining in which to figure a project. "Too Late," said the director, but he did not know the resourcefulness of the three gentlemen from Arlington Heights. The village of Glenview had two similar projects all laid out, the engineer in charge of the work at Glenview was available. A special dispensation of 12 hours was secured from headquarters. The entire party returned to Arlington Heights with the multitude of blanks necessary for the set ups. By midnight the job was done.

The above facts were outlined to the members of the Arlington Heights Park Board at their meeting Tuesday evening by Mayor Flentie and trustees Schneberger and Krause. The park board was not asked to make a definite decision that evening, but the members of that body and others present that evening, in the hour of free discussion upon the subject admitted that the two projects, if constructed, should really be handled by the park board itself. The park board members asked for a copy of the set ups in order that they might familiarize themselves with the plans while waiting for Uncle Sam's answer.

SECURE 11 ACRE TRACT
FOR WPA PROJECT

Joint Committee Recommends Purchase of Dr. Orth Tract and Acceptance of Krause Donation. Arlington Heights has a new public park. It consists of eleven and a half acres and is within five blocks of the Northwestern depot. Its purchase was authorized by a joint committee Friday evening called by Mayor Flentie to either accept or reject the $90,000 WPA grant given to Arlington Heights for park purposes if the project was accepted, to select the site for the park.

The committee almost unanimously favored a tract of eleven acres, title of which is in the hands of Mr. Waldemar Krause.

Mayor Flentie first asked every individual present to express opinion as to whether the village should proceed with the project. All spoke favorably.

Mr. Flentie explained to the committee that immediate action was necessary if the project is to be saved. In the formal discussion it was explained that it was necessary for the village to sponsor the project at this time. Following its completion, it is expected that the park and its improvements will be turned over to the park board. By that time, the park district will probably include the entire village.

The first obstacle to the purchase of the land by means of general obligation bonds was discovered when it was learned that public benefit assessed against the village as its share of various special assessments had a priority claim to any new issuance of general bonds.

The village has not exceeded its general bonding power, but that bonding power is not sufficient to care for the existing public benefits and in addition the funds needed to purchase the necessary lands.

On the other hand, the park board has a large bonding power and could issue said bonds.

A meeting of the joint committee was held Monday evening, at which time the park board expressed its reluctance to use the credit of that district for such a purpose.

Members of the Arlington Heights Park Board went on record Monday evening as individuals that they were not willing at this time to participate in a Park Bond issue for the purpose of acquiring land for the new recreational park.

Lenten Season Being Observed Everywhere

(Mount Prospect Review)

The first day of the Lenten season, Ash Wednesday, was observed all over the land yesterday in all churches of the Christian faith. In Chicago it was estimated that 2,000,000 Chicagoans attended the 2,000 Lenten services during Lent opened in the loop yesterday under auspices of the Church Club of Chicago. The noonday services were held at the Harris theater, and the speaker was Bishop George Craig Stewart. An added feature this year will be short organ recitals, starting daily at 12 o'clock.

In the Catholic faith the special event of the day was the distribution of the ashes, the symbol of humility and penitence. It was also a day of fasting and abstinence marking the beginning of the Lenten season of self-denial in commemoration of the days spent by Christ in the wilderness in fasting and meditation.

Throughout the churches of the archdiocese Sunday Lenten instructions to take effect yesterday were read by the clergy at all the masses. They were sent out by Cardinal Mundelein in a special letter to the priests.

In 204 Missouri Synod Lutheran churches was marked by intensive devotions, centering in evening worship at the various edifices, with sermons and music built around the Lenten theme.

In hundreds of other Protestant churches throughout Chicago Ash Wednesday will be observed, principally with evening devotions of music and sermon.

Wheeling Township Third Precinct Holds Pep Meeting

A pep meeting of Precinct 3 was called for last Tuesday evening by the Regular elected precinct committee, Elmer Karstens, to urge the workers and friends of George Oloese and the Regular Democratic candidates to greater efforts.

Sixty-five enthusiastic friends responded and a great meeting was had. The issue in the April primary was put squarely up to them.

The selection of a district leader, who would truly represent all of the people in Wheeling township and the regular county and state candidates.

It was pointed out that a man worthy of their support and a true representative of Wheeling township, should possess certain qualifications. He should be a man whom the Democratic leaders will recognize and who has their respect and confidence.

Our candidate, George Oloese is such a man—He now has the confidence and respect of the county and State Regular organizations—thru them he appointed the judges and clerks of election—His opponent is not recognized.

Second, a leader must be a man who will not use his official position for his own advancement to the detriment of the party. George Oloese never was guilty of doing this.

How many voters received wood and other favors from George? Not one of them were ever asked or told what they had to do or asked whether they were Republicans or Democrats—His opponent used his power to get three jobs for himself. George Oloese has not and will.

not double cross his friends and his word is his bond. How many jobs has his opponent promised, knowing he had no intention of giving them when he made the promise? His recent promises to appoint the judges and clerks of election are a shining example. He knew he could not deliver when he made the promise.

The inside story of the indictment and trial of Charles F. Grandt, was then told.

George Oloese was called on for a few words and he expressed his pleasure at being present and appreciated the loyalty and work of his friends and the friends of the Democratic Party in his and their behalf.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Feasting and frolic days are spent, Old winter wanes and now comes Lent;

What you give up or what you do, Don't talk about, just live it true;

Going to church with pious art, May deceive men, God knows the heart;

We ate too much, we played to much,

Why wear in Lent a pious touch When we keep Lent for our own good?

Our Father well has understood, Keep Lent to make your body fit For the Spirit to abide in it.

During the winter appetites are sharper, social functions pander to all sorts of rich or harmful foods, and the zest of social, genial conversation help on to overtaxing our digestive apparatus.

To do away with all the harm this perpetrated to our physical organism we need Lenten abstinence to restore our bodies to their normal condition and make them fit for the abiding place of the spirit.

What do you plan to give up in Lent? If we could each one decide on our most disagreeable habit, one that most annoys our friends and just give up or overcome that habit, how much good we would do, and how much happier would we be making those about us. Fault finding might be one, such habit. Talking always about self being hero of our every story might be another habit that overcoming would bring happiness to those about us. Try it.

After all, it would be heaps easier to pick out the most faults in others than to see our own. This is a queer old world. Someone, was it Emerson, Confucius or Franklin, who said: "When a preacher makes a mistake he blames the translation; when a doctor makes a mistake he buries it; when an editor makes a mistake, he has to eat humble pie, and take it out on the printer."

Since we are about to enter the Lenten season, each individual must decide the way to benefit in its observance. God only is our judge as to our intent or sincerity and God only can bless as we deserve. May Easter find us better for sincere good intent.

Since this is George Washington's birthday and all the radio humorists and philosophers are talking about him even while listening for Julian Bentley with the morning news, heard a most classic play to be pictured by the "boys" in the Prairie Farmer station in memory of the Father of our Country. How he threw a dollar across the Potomac river, but that was nothing compared to the dollars we were throwing across the ocean now. O, it was so funny it helped our breakfast cereal to digest.

One more about Washington. When our Great Franklin was an ambassador abroad, met at a banquet the French and English or British Ambassadors, each offered a toast to his nation, said the Englishman, "England, the greatest country in the world on whose land and possessions the sun never sets." Said the Frenchman, "France," the most beautiful country on earth, where both sun and moon forever shine." Then calmly arose Franklin with "George Washington, the Joshua of America, who commanded the sun and moon to stand still and they obeyed him."

Since we are all telling things about our great men, here's one about the one who comes third on the list of our greatest Presidents, Theodore Roosevelt. Did you know that the name of that delightful plaything for children "the Teddy Bear" originated? Here's the story:

So many have inquired how the "Teddy bear" fad originated. A Washington cartoonist started the bad on hearing the following incident: T. R. while president, was out with a hunting party and promised to bring home a bear. After a few days out word reached him that a bear had been sighted.

Heavily armed the sportsmen set out to find only a little black bear cub only about eighteen inches long. Two strong men were holding it. T. R. smiled at the sight and said, "Why I would be ashamed to face my children again if I shot

One true woman clear in mind, Mother to all womankind; Strove with her great mind and heart, To restore women given part.

We have endeavored in these paragraphs to pay due honor and remembrance to Washington and Lincoln and to our third February heroic soul, Susan B. Anthony, whose great mother heart was recognized by the children of her town. Every Saturday they would gather in her home for a treat of her plain gingerbread, made by her own hands, and by the care of her brother's motherless children. Shall we place of America longer fail in placing her birthday on our February list as a national holiday.

One job in which the elephant seems to have no equal is breaking up the jams of teak logs that occur every few miles in the Mekong river of Siam. The hundreds of animals that are engaged in this work not only have the power to push or pull these giant pieces of timber out of tightly held positions, but they are often better than their mahouts in finding the key log that is holding the jam. — Collier's Weekly.

It's grand for any sort of wear—sports, lolling around, or partying.

Luther Layman's League Elects Officers

Someone just reminds me that this is cherry week and also cherry pie time. Can she make a cherry pie, Billy boy? Can she make a cherry pie, charming billy? Sure she could if G. Washington hadn't cut down that cherry tree with his little hatchet that reminds me of away back when the ladies of the Presbyterian church were giving a Washington birthday supper, there may be some here who remember that supper.

Miss Mamie Shirra, now Mrs. Kates, and your humble servant were in charge. We cut a pattern for a small hatchet and Mr. Kates of the firm of Bray & Kates, hardware merchants, cut from the pattern three small hatchets, these painted bright and tied with narrow red, white and blue ribbons, we used as place cards, and didn't they please the guests?

To restore God given right, Long withheld by power and might; For this she earnestly implored Rights by selfish men ignored.

Strong in spirit gently human, She espoused the cause of woman; Like some warrior battle worn, She bore the buffettings of scorn.

Yet, with Spartan mothers strength Victory for women won, at length; Mother of all womanhood, One by children understood.

Brave heart, ever gentle, yet Why do we so soon forget The struggle won for you and me By great heart Susan Anthony?

You, who now hold places proud, Who for office shout and crowd, All our nation questions yet, Why women do so soon forget.

Shall not her birthday hold a place With other honored names we trace?

Earnestly here we would appeal For one whose brave undying zeal; Spent in the cause of womanhood Secured for us our greatest good;

An announcement on classified page has the details. Mr. Everett has reason to believe that the dogs are still in this vicinity and as he has a personal attachment for the dogs is asking the aid of the general public in locating them.

For some time past Mr. and Mrs. Bauer have been employed at the Creamery Package plant. They have a comfortable home on North Douglas avenue. Mr. Bauer is an expert in the care of his garden and lawn, flowers and vines, and Mrs. Bauer is a faultless cook and home keeper.

One year ago last Christmas their eldest son, Stephen, was married and this year soon after Christmas, a little son was born to them. Little Ronald who held high place among the honor guests of the occasion which celebrated their wonderful day.

While Grandma Bauer was all unsuspecting playing with baby Ronald, when a ring came at the door she opened it and a few invited guests came in and hustled Mr. and Mrs. Bauer off to Meyer's hall which was all lighted up and where a crowd of their fellow workers, to the number of 84 greeted them with shouts of surprise. And so it was a whale of a surprise. The music of the best and the merriest dancing was the delightful entertainment. The table was spread for the wedding supper and "All went merrily as a wedding bell." Few private citizens in our town have been treated to such a wonderful surprise. It would be a delightful treat to hear Mrs. Bauer's happy description of it all. We join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Bauer may live to celebrate their golden anniversary as happily as this, their silver wedding.

O, Anna was a maiden fair, Jacob was young, gallant and gay, And they wed as one this happy pair;

That far off wedding day.

Twenty-five years of toil and tears, Of shadows dark and deep;

Yet somehow on their later years, The best things God doth heap.

Two sons were given true and strong,

Stephen and Jacob helping to cheer,

And a grandson like a merry song

Or a blossom, came this year,

And on this silver wedding day Kind neighbors all so friendly wise;

Like waves of sunshine over Came with the shout surprise!

And on life's journey farther yet, Until fifty years are told;

May stars of hope in memory set,

Shine in your crown of gold.

Organized in 1926, it has been continuously under the musical direction of Harry Slater of Elmhurst, an employee of the road, and has carried out its original purpose for "furnishing entertainment for employees of the road and promoting friendship and sociability among fellow employees."

The club is a voluntary organization practicing evenings on the employees own time. One of the features of its yearly program has been the singing of Christmas Carols in the Chicago Passenger Station of the North Western during the rush of patrons through the station at Holiday time.

The chorus has represented the railway company at approximately 150 public performances, including concerts, operatic, minstrel, Christmas and Easter programs, music festivals and special programs during the Century of Progress.

THE THINGS YOU THINK

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE things you think men care about

When you stay home, when you step out,

Are not the things, it may befall, That people care about at all.

Some are so careful of their dress,

Yet guilty of the carelessness,

Some merry night, some busy day,

Of what they do and what they say.

The things you think that callers note,

And long remember when remote,

Are not the things remembered then By other women, other men.

Some are so careful that the drapes

Are certain colors, certain shapes,

And yet their house may be a place

Without a single Christian grace.

The things you think that men discuss

When time has had its time with us

Are not the things that men relate,

Our worth, or wealth, to estimate.

Some are so careful that they leave

A great estate to those who grieve,

And yet their monument shall be

Not money, but a memory.

Must Report Auto Mishaps Resulting In Injury, Death*ARLINGTON HEIGHTS GARDEN CLUB*SOIL

The Garden club has presented some very good programs on the subject of soil, and there is still a good deal more that might be said since it is a rather large subject. We have in mind just now a picture of which is shown as a background for the accident illustrated above, is furnished by this Department.

The soil in this locality is generally a very heavy loam. Without some treatment from year to year, it is entirely too heavy for best results. This treatment referred to has more to do with the physical condition of the soil than its fertility. One is as important as the other, in fact the physical condition may even be the more important. We know, of course, that we cannot continue to grow crops, of whatever kind, year after year without replenishing some of the soil food elements. But we city gardeners are apt to get in the habit of supplying the food elements in the form of commercial fertilizers and forget the other requirements.

This "Motor Vehicle Accident Report" form has been distributed to the police departments of all municipalities, sheriffs, coroners, county highway superintendents, state highway police, state highway employees, motor clubs, insurance companies, and many other agencies. It is intended to make these forms easily available to parties involved in accidents.

Reports submitted are for the confidential use of this Department and shall be used for statistical purposes only.

The law does not make any exceptions and carriers operating under a franchise from the Illinois Commerce Commission are required to make accident reports.

The following suggestions are given for making reports:

1. Write legibly and answer all questions on both sides of the form as completely as possible.

2. Locate the accident as definitely as possible. Name the highway, town or city, or give the direction and distance from the nearest town, highway intersection, bridge, etc.

3. Reports must be in sufficient detail to disclose the cause, conditions then existing, the persons and vehicles involved, and the persons injured or killed.

4. Make a complete and intelligible picture in the diagram provided on the reverse side of the report.

Since failure to file a report constitutes a misdemeanor, it is the duty of police officers to investigate cases where drivers have been delinquent in reporting and see that a complete report is sent to the Department. If the drivers or occupants of a vehicle are incapable of making a report, it is the duty of any official at the scene of the accident to render a report.

Remember to look after both the physical condition of your soil, and its fertility if you would have a beautiful yard and garden.

Paul Patrick.

Moose Grows Heavy Antlers

Growing the annual set of antlers is matter of spectacular proportions in the moose, largest member of the deer family, living or extinct. Moose antlers may approach 100 pounds in weight, and they have been known to have a spread of 75 inches. The palmation of the antlers may present a width of solid bone for 12 inches, and the number of points often runs as high as 25.

Pickled Pine

Pickled pine is pine which has been subjected to a chemical treatment which ages it and gives to the wood surface something of the soft patina of old pine or "deal" from which the paint has been stripped. Pine was used for room interiors and furniture in England in the Eighteenth century, but it was never left in its natural state. For room paneling it was painted; for furniture—it was also painted, and for mirror frames, for which it was often used because it was easily carved, it was either painted or gilded.

PICKLED PINE

Hand draped turbans and pedaleen brims in snappy straw models.

Col. Robert And Col. Frank Are Focus Of 'Time' Issue

the interests of Col. Robert McCormick and Col. Frank Knox; publishers of the Tribune and News respectively.

noteworthy sidelight on the affair is found in a story published in the LaGrange Citizen last week, which is quoted in part here.

"How the controversy started in the first place is an interesting story which suburbanites probably never will see in the Chicago dailies. Indian summer was a bit late last fall, and after the last Sunday in October when the clocks were turned up again the days continued sunny and warm. Lacking a topic for a good anti-New Deal editorial, a Tribune editorialist translated his zeal for daylight savings time into a pertinent brief writeup, no longer than a finger.

"It struck a popular chord of approval. Letters began to pour into the Tribune office from readers who favored year-around daylight savings.

"The afternoon papers kept quiet, but publishers were apprehensive as they studied the effect of a 12-month daylight savings on news sales.

"The final New York markets were to arrive in Chicago one hour later than they do at present. Race track news would be an hour later. And with the morning papers getting out an early night edition on the news stands at 7 p. m., late-working commuters might grab a morning paper instead of the afternoon daily's final market-sport edition.

"Soon from the afternoon sheets came news articles and editorials thunderous in their condemnation of the whole scheme. One paper ran a series of satires on members of the city council, climaxing it all with sarcastic editorials advocating the abolition of the council.

"So far Col. Robert McCormick and Col. Frank Knox have not come to a parting of the political ways, as a result of the change-of-time feud."

Today's Problem of Unemployed Women

Everyone having anything to do with employment problems—particularly those in the Service field—knows only too well how difficult it is to find qualified workers—women not only able, but willing to go into someone else's home and give the best they have in an endeavor to satisfy their employer.

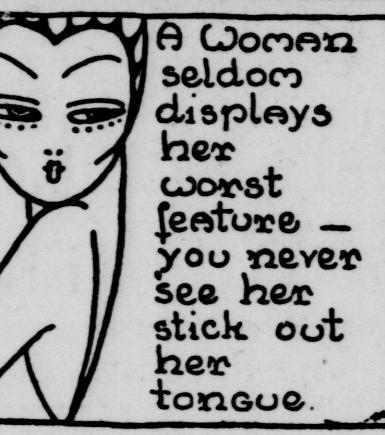

The Service (or Domestic) field is one which warrants due and careful consideration by all women workers in smaller towns and cities because factory, office, and sales positions are necessarily limited by the number of industries, stores, and offices the community can support.

salary will be proportionately larger than that paid the woman who only can assist with these duties and is unsure of her ability to do this.

Orders for competent Service workers far exceed the applicants to fill the positions. If you've done housework—cooking, serving, baking, practical nursing, caring for children, laundry work, ironing etc.—even if only in your own home and under your mother's supervision, be sure to register with this office. If you're neat and tidy in appearance—have average intelligence—pleasing manners—and really want to work, we can find agreeable work for you, and quickly. Why not register today?

ARLINGTON TAKES TWO VICTORIES

Defeats Antioch 35 to 31 and 35 to 18; a New Tonic, Surprise Lineup.

Arlington journeyed to Antioch through water, snow and a bad fog Monday of this week to play off the games postponed from Feb. 14. And they had the pleasure which has been rare this year for the Cardinals of coming home with a double victory.

"Bud" Schneberger was moved up from the "Lights" for the evening and proved the tonic needed for an erstwhile ailing Cardinal crew. Alone he garnered six baskets at opportune times to lead Arlington's scoring. He was aided in these scores by some of the best passing Arlington has shown this year. He and Johnson collaborated on some fancy tossing under the basket, Johnson failed to connect with many of his tries, but played a bang up game. Allen, Koplin, Annen and Pingel were also laying them up to the basket beautifully and were all important factors in this Cardinal win.

From Arlington's standpoint the best part of the game was the fact that they had the courage to come from behind to win. They trailed 9-4 at the quarter and 22-17 at the half. They were still behind at the third quarter, but gradually creeping up. They staged a whirlwind fourth to take a lead and keep it to win.

Hill, Lutson and Miller were really hot-shots for Antioch and were taking advantage of every opportunity to score.

A surprise line-up played excellent ball for Arlington and took the lightweight game from Antioch. Mueller opened up with a free throw and Baxter batted a thousand and two shots from the side. Dearie and Foley fed beautifully from the back court and Hanauer handled the pivot work almost to perfection. Mueller's rebound work and his aggressive efforts on defense enabled Arlington to control the ball throughout the first half. A score of 15-4 at half time gave the Tornadoes the necessary margin to withstand Antioch's spirited and clever drive later. Hanauer choked off this rally by cashing two free throws to pull Arlington away once more. The game ended 25-18 with the victors well in control again.

Omand and Effinger sparked for the northern lights on offensive. The officiating of Mr. Chappell was a pleasure to behold.

Arlington journeyed to Antioch through water, snow and a bad fog Monday of this week to play off the games postponed from Feb. 14. And they had the pleasure which has been rare this year for the Cardinals of coming home with a double victory.

"Bud" Schneberger was moved up from the "Lights" for the evening and proved the tonic needed for an erstwhile ailing Cardinal crew. Alone he garnered six baskets at opportune times to lead Arlington's scoring. He was aided in these scores by some of the best passing Arlington has shown this year. He and Johnson collaborated on some fancy tossing under the basket. Johnson failed to connect with many of his tries, but played a bang up game. Allen, Koplin, Annen and Pingel were also laying them up to the basket beautifully and were all important factors in this Cardinal win.

From Arlington's standpoint the best part of the game was the fact that they had the courage to come from behind to win. They trailed 9-4 at the quarter and 22-17 at the half. They were still behind at the third quarter, but gradually creeping up. They staged a whirlwind fourth to take a lead and keep it to win.

Thill, Lutson and Miller were really hot-shots for Antioch and were taking advantage of every opportunity to score.

A surprise line-up played excellent ball for Arlington and took the lightweight game from Antioch. Mueller opened up with a free throw and Baxter batted a thousand and two shots from the side. Dearie and Foley fed beautifully from the back court and Hanauer handled the pivot work almost to perfection. Mueller's rebound work and his aggressive efforts on defense enabled Arlington to control the ball throughout the first half. A score of 15-4 at half time gave the Tornadoes the necessary margin to withstand Antioch's spirited and clever drive later. Hanauer choked off this rally by cashing two free throws to pull Arlington away once more. The game ended 25-18 with the victors well in control again.

Osmond and Effinger sparked for the northern lights on offensive. The officiating of Mr. Chappell was a pleasure to behold.

Next Year's Cardinals Make Good Showing Before Northbrook

What will probably be Arlington's next year's ball clubs played at Northbrook last Wednesday night and won a neat double header. They displayed a dash that has seldom been exhibited by the Cards this year and consequently had command of the game most of the way.

Northbrook has far from a bad ball club and play better ball than some of the teams to which Arlington has succumbed this season.

Illinois State High School Tourney Begins

The season's windup in basketball for a great many high schools in the state is this week. The eliminations to determine a state high school champion gets underway, and before this article gets into print, quite a good number of high schools will have been eliminated by the first round play on Wednesday night.

All the Northwest conference schools excepting Libertyville get into action this week, and of necessity the largest part of them will be eliminated. The Wildcats, due to their fine record this year, are automatically eligible for the Regional tourney to be held at Waukegan next week.

Maine of Des Plaines draws six conference schools to their district. The proximity of Maine to several of the neighboring schools should insure a good crowd for each session if bad weather doesn't intervene.

At Maine, Arlington and Grant hook up in the opener at 7:30 Wednesday night. These two schools have not yet met this year. If Arlington can handle the giant Amann their star center, under the basket, and keep up with Paddock, their ace and floor guard, they have an excellent chance of copping their starter. Arlington seems to have been rejuvenated by the addition of some new blood, from the lightweight ranks and might be somewhat of a surprise to some of the Maine tourney teams.

At 8:30 Wednesday, Lake Forest and Northbrook swing into action. On Thursday night Maine draws Niles Center for the opener and Warren and Antioch complete the first round. Then on Friday night, Wednesday night's winners hook up to be followed by Thursday's winners. On Saturday night the consolation and championship matches will be played. Due to the nature of the draw in this district, both the finalists as well as the consolation winner will become eligible for the regional next week.

In the Wauconda district Palatine and Wauconda open Wednesday night to be followed by Hebron and Carroll. On Thursday McHenry meets Huntley and Barrington and Ela get together. The semi-finals and finals will follow in due course, Friday and Saturday nights. Only the two finalists go up from the Wauconda district to Woodstock the following week.

At Glenbard meets Wheaton in the first game. York-Argo, Leyden-Hinsdale and the West Chicago-Bensenville games follow in order. At this district again three teams become eligible for the following week at La Grange.

This week's play will conclude the season for all the losers excepting such conference schools as have postponed conference games to play off which will probably be contested next week.

Catlow Theatre News

"The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," starring Ronald Colman, which comes Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 26 and 27 to the Catlow Theatre with Joan Bennett in the feminine lead, and the Tornados the necessary margin to withstand Antioch's spirited and clever drive later. Hanauer choked off this rally by cashing two free throws to pull Arlington away once more. The game ended 25-18 with the victors well in control again.

Gene Raymond's new RKO Radio's "Seven Keys To Baldpate" laid in a lonely inn among the Adirondacks, is said to be one of the most interesting offerings of recent months from the standpoint of its backgrounds and true-to-life settings. Margaret Callahan has the feminine lead opposite featured Gene Raymond, with Erin O'Brien-Moore, Eric Blore, Moroni Olsen, Grant Mitchell and Ray Mayer in the other roles, coming Friday, Feb. 28.

A weird and thrilling drama of murders during and after a gay Long Island party in Universal's "Remember Last Night?" is coming Saturday, Feb. 29. In the film are featured such players as Constance Cummings, Sally Eilers, Robert Young, Robert Armstrong, Reginald Denny, Gregory Ratoff, Monroe Owsley, and Louise Henry.

"Magnificent Obsession," the Universal offering produced by John Stahl, which starts Sunday, March 1, is based on Lloyd C. Douglas' novel of the same name. The book has been to press forty times in the United States and has also had a large sale in Canada and British Empire, as well as in France. The story has been reproduced on phonograph records for the blind, so widespread is its appeal.

Irene Dunne, Robert Taylor, Charles Butterworth, Betty Furness, Sara Haden, Ralph Morgan and Henry Armetta portray the leading roles.

Real Estate Foreclosures At Four Year Low in 1935

That a housing shortage is now developing throughout the United States is suggested by the fact that real estate foreclosures during the last three months of 1935 showed a decline of more than 18 percent from the corresponding period of 1934. The total real estate foreclosures during the entire year of 1935 were by a small margin lowest in any of the past four full years. These figures were obtained by the National Emergency Council from the Federal Home Loan Board's survey, which embraced 890 identical communities throughout the 48 states.

The board voted to purchase 200 new volumes for the library out of funds that have been donated. Most of these books will be new adult fiction, and books for the older children of high school age.

Mrs. E. Baskin.

The Mount Prospect Woman's club received an invitation from the Irving Park Woman's club to attend their Reciprocity day program, Monday, March 2.

The joint board meeting of the library and Woman's club, was held at the home of Mrs. H. W. Carlson Tuesday afternoon, February 25.

The picture is based on the rollicking comedy by Frederick Hazlitt Brennan and is said not only to be hilariously funny but to carry a humorous love triangle between Miss Blondell, Jenkins and Warren Hull, the radio star who has the romantic role in the production.

Miss Blondell and Miss Farrell are teamed as a couple of wise-cracking chorus beauties who run a concession at an amusement park on the Pacific Coast. They are put out of business through the canning skill of Allen Jenkins.

Hugh Herbert promotes a beauty contest, which includes a prize fight with 5,000 voters awarded the winner to give to his girl friend. This is staged between Jenkins, who has fallen in love with the chorus beauty, Miss Blondell, and one of the local pugs.

Laughs tumble over each other in a series of hilarious situations to a melodramatic, although laughable climax, in which there is a kidnapping, a motor boat chase for the abducted girl and a free for all battle including not only the sailors, but their sweeties.

Warren Hull, musical comedy and radio star, sings a song specially written for the production by M. K. Jerome and Herb Magidson.
